

UP TO 30% LESS FRUIT AND VEGETABLES WEIGHT LOSS

Samkaup stores across Iceland have experienced great customer satisfaction with their 11 Condair humidification systems, while significantly reducing weight loss at the same time.

A great win

The humidification solution provided by Condair has been at great success at Samkaup. They bought another 10 systems after trying out the concept in one of their stores, and they have committed to buy at least one new system every year.

The Condair humidification system prolongs the shelf life of the fruit and vegetables. Samkaup experiences up to 30% less weight loss of the fruit and vegetables placed inside the humidified area, and this is a great economic win.

In addition to the economic win, the customers feel that an extra effort is made to ensure freshness in the store. In this respect hygiene is crucial for Samkaup's stores. Condair's ML System products are the only humidification system in the industry that is HACCP certified according to the ISO 22000 standard for production, installation and service.

“ We bought a test system for our store in Reykjavik in 2010 and found that thanks to the Condair humidification solution we have reduced the weight loss of our fruit and vegetables by up to 30%.
